

CONTENTS

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.....	xiv
INTRODUCTION.....	1
CHAPTER 1. LOCATING SELF: THE RESEARCHER AS A BORDER CROSSER.....	6
The Researcher as an Environmental Activist and Educator.....	10
Self-location .....	12
CHAPTER 2. ZINC: EVOKING CONTESTED NOTIONS.....	15
Mapping the Terrain of Environmental Fatigue and Exhaustion.....	17
CHAPTER 3. LITERATURE REVIEW AND SOME THEORETICAL AND METHODOLOGICAL REFLECTIONS.....	23
Adult Education and Citizen Activism.....	26
Palmerton: A Critical Ethnographic Account.....	34

CHAPTER 4. LIFE IN THE INDUSTRIAL CULTURE: THE WILLFUL REFUSAL TO KNOW.....	40
Constructing The “Central Reality” And Learning To Comply.....	40
Surrogates On The Landscape: Industrial Presence By Proxy.....	49
Pedagogies of Distraction: The Palmerton Environmental Task Force (PETF).....	52
Privileging Pollutants.....	66
The Authority of Science:Palmerton’s Scientific Symposium (Good science...bad science...your science...my science).....	71
Bankrupt Corporate Community Education: The Zinc Environmental Information Center.....	85
Hand Lotion and Blood Pressure Screening: Health Care Responses to Toxic Contamination.....	91
Paper Promises from an Iron Fortress: The Public School Administration.....	104
Betraying the Grammar of Freedom.....	113
Palmerton’s Chamber of Commerce and the Pro-Palmerton Coalition: Joining the Hegemonic Cabal.....	115
Some Outside Players on the Landscape.....	121
Concluding Thoughts on the Industrial Alliance: A Sphere of Authorization That Is Itself an Authorized Sphere.....	123

The Derivation Of Authority.....	127
Mixing Lives and Livelihoods: Economic Blackmail.....	131
Gifting and Dependency: The Poisonous Potlatch.....	134
The Power of the Purse.....	139
Assembling Dangerous Memory.....	144
Re-inventing Self: Politics at the Hegemonic Center.....	146
Scapegoating, Othering and Cultural Representation.....	149
Corrosive Speech Acts and Obtuse Speech Performance.....	155
Exploiting Fear.....	158
The Architecture of Silence.....	161
Quiescence and Helplessness.....	164
Fostering Neutrality.....	166
Loyalty: The Ties That Bind.....	167
CHAPTER 5. PALMERTON CITIZENS FOR A CLEAN ENVIRONMENT: NEGOTIATING POWER FROM THE MARGINS.....	169
Resistant Grassroots “Girls” Uncover The Possibility Of Public Articulation.....	170
From Borrowed Spaces, the Emergence of PCCE.....	173
More on Sisterhood and Solidarity.....	189

Self-directed Learning In the Absence of Mentors.....	192
Domesticity: The Role of Home, Hearth, Lawns and Gardens.....	194
Political Action: A Consequence of Domesticity.....	195
Motherhood: A Significant Antecedent to Political Action.....	202
Vision and Voice: Empowering Acts of Seeing and Speaking.....	205
The Emanation of Cultural Action Through Experience.....	208
Beyond Fear.....	211
Landscape as a Primary Site of Cultural Struggle and Contest.....	213
Greenwashing Ecology.....	214
Pebbles in the lawns.....	218
The Value of Abandoning Their Stories.....	223
Recounting Undervalued Stories.....	229
Staying Playful: Christmas Parties and Other Ludic Acts.....	232
Education Born In Political Struggle:Unlearning And Relearning.....	238
Asking Menacing Questions.....	251
‘Girls’ On the Chain.....	252

CHAPTER 6: BEING MORE ABOUT SPIRITUAL THINGS THAN ENVIRONMENTAL ONES.....	256
A Pedogogy of Promise in a Community-at-Risk.....	257
Ethical Decisions as Social and Political Acts.....	258
PCCE, Doing the Governments’ Work: A New Civil Authority in the Public Sphere.....	263
Three Governments Falling Down.....	266
Failures of the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).....	267
Who has the key?.....	270
A Day Late, A Committment Short: The State Environmental Agency (DEP).....	274
“Kissing up to Industry”: Borough Hall.....	276
Modest Triumphs from Growing Grassroots.....	283
PCCE: Visions of a New Scion for Environmental Activism.....	284
PCCE’s Legacy To Environmental Reform And Environmental Democracy.....	287
CHAPTER 7. SIGNIFICANCE TO ADULT EDUCATION.....	292
Suggestions For Further Study.....	293

CHAPTER 8. CONCLUSIONS.....	295
REFERENCES.....	300
APPENDIX 1: POTENTIALLY RESPONSIBLE PARTIES AT THE PALMERTON ZINC SITE.....	374
APPENDIX 2: DEFINITIONS AND TERMS.....	375
APPENDIX 3: “IN THE SHADOW OF A GIANT,” A POEM BY TESS ROBERTS.....	384